

Cookie Policy

Effective date: 07 September 2026

1. Introduction

This Cookie Policy explains how Royal Financial Markets ("RFM") may use cookies and similar technologies on its website.

2. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small files or pieces of information stored on a user's device when visiting a website. They can help a website function correctly, remember preferences, improve performance, and understand website usage.

3. Types of Cookies

Depending on the technologies actually used, RFM may use: strictly necessary cookies for core functions and security; preference cookies for settings; analytics/performance cookies for website improvement; and marketing/advertising cookies if such tools are implemented.

4. Third-Party Technologies

RFM may use third-party technologies such as analytics, security, communication, AI, or other website services. The final version of this Policy should list the actual services and cookies implemented on the live website.

5. Cookie Choices

Where required by applicable law, users will be provided with appropriate choices regarding non-essential cookies. Users may also control cookies through their browser or the website's cookie settings. Disabling certain cookies may affect website functionality.

6. Changes

RFM may update this Cookie Policy when website technologies or applicable requirements change.

7. Contact

For questions about cookies or privacy, please contact RFM through the official contact details published on the website.
